Create a Rubric

1. In the Navbar, click [Course Management] and select [Rubrics].
2. Click the [New Rubric] button.
3. Type your rubric's title into the Name box, then click [Published] to set the status of the rubric to [Draft]. (You will set the status to published when you have finished editing the rubric.) The rubric is auto-saved as you are working on it.

TIP: Be as descriptive as possible with your name so you can identify the rubric later.

The screenshot shows the 'Edit Rubric' interface. At the top, it says 'Edit Rubric' with a dropdown arrow. To the right, there is a 'Status: Published' dropdown menu. Below this, the 'Name*' field contains 'Example Rubric'. To the right of the name field is a status dropdown menu with options: 'Published' (checked), 'Archived', and 'Draft' (highlighted with a red box). Below the name field, there are three dropdown menus: 'Type: Analytic', 'Scoring: Custom Points', and 'Reverse Level Order'.

4. Click the [Type] link and choose a rubric type

The screenshot shows the 'Type' dropdown menu. The 'Type: Analytic' dropdown is highlighted with a red box. The dropdown menu is open, showing two options: 'Holistic' and 'Analytic' (checked). To the right of the dropdown menu, there is a 'Level 4' dropdown menu.

- Analytic - This rubric type breaks performance into multiple criteria. Each criterion is assessed separately, resulting in an overall assessment score. This is the most common rubric type.
- Holistic - These rubrics are less common. Performance is assessed holistically so several criteria would be considered, but only one overall assessment would be made.

5. Click the [Scoring] link and choose a scoring type.

- No score - Use this option if you want to use the rubric just to give feedback, but want to assign a holistic grade to the assignment. You won't be able to assign points to each category.
- Points - Use this option if you want all of your criteria to be weighted the same (i.e. if you had 4 criteria, they would all be worth 25% of the grade). This option will calculate a grade for your assignment.
- Custom Points - Use this option if your criteria have different weights (i.e. if your grammar is worth 15%, quality of thought is worth 50%, and formatting is worth 35%). This option will also calculate a grade for your assignment.

6. Click the [Reverse Level Order] if you would like to reverse the direction in which points are awarded (i.e., Level 4 earns the highest points vs. earns the least points).

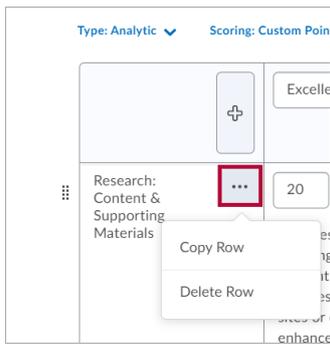

7. You can enter your criteria and levels into the appropriate fields, as well as the number of points you want associated with each level. You can also optionally enter Initial Feedback, which will be added when you use the rubric for grading.

8. Individual rows can be copied or deleted by using the dot menu in each criteria title field.

9. Click the [Dot menu] ⋮ to copy or delete the specific row.

NOTE: If you copy a row, D2L creates the copied row with a default name that begins with "Copy of". You can change the name at the time of copying or later by clicking the row name.

10. Click the [+] button to add levels.

11. Click the [+ Add Criterion] link at the bottom of the rubric template to add a criterion.

12. To have multiple groups of criteria, click [Add Criteria Group] and type in the name of the group.

13. If you create multiple groups you can easily reorder them via the movement arrows that appear beside each group name. If you only have one Criteria group you will not see the movement arrows.

The image shows a portion of a rubric table. On the left side, there is a vertical margin containing a plus sign icon (+) in a small box. Two red arrows point from this icon to the plus sign in the top-left cell and the bottom-left cell of the rubric grid. The rubric grid has four rows and two columns. The top row has 'Context' in the first column and 'Excellent' in the second. The second row has 'Subject source' in the first column, '20 pt' in the second, and 'Initial Feedback' in the third. The third row has 'Subject credibility' in the first column, '20 pt' in the second, and 'Initial Feedback' in the third. The bottom row has 'Form' in the first column and 'Excellent' in the second. The row below that has 'Margins/Headers' in the first column and '20 pt' in the second.

14. In the overall score area, enter the level of achievement you would like to allocate for each score.

The image shows the 'Overall Score' section of a rubric. It includes a title 'Overall Score' and a subtitle 'Each submission is assigned a level of achievement based on its overall rubric score.' Below this is a table with four columns representing achievement levels: A, B, Level 2, and Level 1. Each column has a score input field and a trash icon. The scores are 16, 12, 5, and 0 respectively. The '12' score is highlighted with a blue border. A plus sign icon (+) is on the left, and a right arrow icon (>) is on the right.

	A	B	Level 2	Level 1
Score	16	12	5	0

15. Underneath the Overall Score area, you can click on [Options] for advanced options.

The image shows a button labeled 'Options' with a right-pointing arrow icon. The 'Options' text is enclosed in a red rectangular box.

16. You have several options for Rubric Visibility.

NOTE: You have the option to [Hide scores from students] – this means that students won't be able to see how you graded them. The most effective practice is to leave this box unchecked so students can see how the grade was calculated.

- You can type in an optional description, which is for your use only and will not be seen by students.
- In the Advanced Availability area, there is an option called [Competencies]. This box must remain checked in order for your rubrics to work. Do not uncheck this box!

- When you are done, click the [Close] button.

You can also copy a Criteria Group within a rubric. The new copy will be listed copied and display at the bottom of your Rubric as "Copy of XXX." You can then edit its properties, criteria, levels, and options. However, aligned learning outcomes are not copied when you copy a criteria group, so any learning outcomes must be reconnected if necessary.

Edit an Assessed Rubric

You can correct spelling errors, clarify wording, and make other minor changes that shouldn't impact the academic integrity of the rubric.

To edit an assessed rubric:

- On the Navbar, click [Rubrics].
- On the Rubrics page, click the rubric you want to edit.
- On the Edit Rubric page, click [Edit Text] in the alert banner at the top of the page.
- In the Edit this assessed rubric? dialog box, click [Edit Text].
- Make your changes.
- Click [Close]. Your edits save automatically.

The red boxes in the following image indicate which fields you can edit:

NOTE: You can't make structural changes (such as adding evaluation levels or criteria), edit points, or add outcome alignments to assessed rubrics.

2. Choose [Copy Criteria Group].

3. The Criteria Group will be copied to the bottom of the rubric, titled "Copy of [Rubric Title]."

Finally, you can also delete a Criteria Group. (You cannot do this if you only have one Criteria Group, which would leave you with none.)

Delete a Criteria Group Within a Rubric

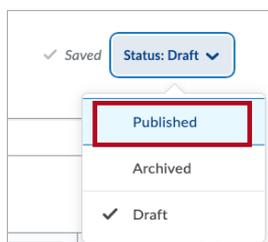

1. On any screen that allows editing the rubric, click the three dots under the name of the Criteria Group.
2. Choose [Delete Criteria Group].

3. A Criteria Group can not be restored once it has been deleted.

Publish Rubric for Use

Once complete, click the status link at the top right of the screen and choose [Published].

Print the Rubric

While in Preview mode, click [Print Rubric] at the top right of the rubric to print a copy.

NOTE: Printed Rubrics will have the Lone Star College logo in the top left corner of the page (the same logo as found in the top left corner of D2L). This provides organizational recognition for printed rubrics and distinguishes printed rubrics within a learner's Portfolio as being from Lone Star College.
