

Associate Assignment Folders with Learning Objectives

Last Modified on 04/29/2026 12:19 pm CDT

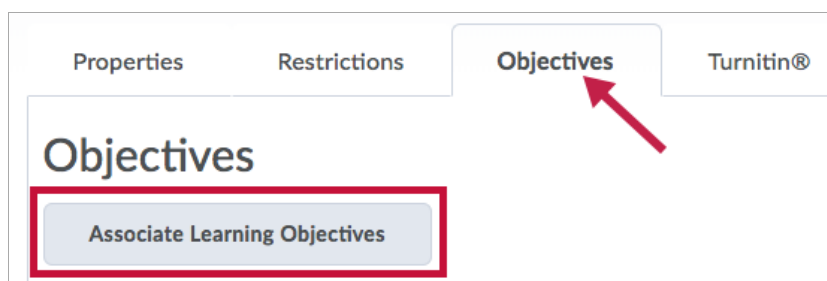

By associating an assignment folder with a learning objective, you can tie the assignment to a competency you want students to master. This association can be a basic association or an association with a rubric-based assessment.

Associate an Assignment Folder with a Learning Objective

1. Click [Course Activities] in the navbar and choose [Assignments].
2. On the Assignment Submission Folders page, click [Edit Folder] from the context menu of the assignment you want to associate with the learning objective.

3. On the Objectives tab, click [Associate Learning Objectives].

4. Browse or search for the learning objective you want to associate with the folder.

NOTE: Learning Objectives must exist in the course in order to be associated with an assignment.

5. Select the learning objectives you want, then click [Add Selected].

Add a Rubric to a Learning Objective Associated with an Assignment Folder

1. Click [Course Activities] in the navbar and choose [Assignments].
2. On the Assignment Submission Folders page, click [Edit Folder] from the context menu of the assignment that contains the learning objective you want to associate with a rubric.
3. On the Objectives tab, click [Add Assessment] from the context menu of the learning objective you want to evaluate.

4. Click [Select Rubric] or [Create Rubric in New Window].
5. Select a rubric from the list of rubrics, or search for a specific one, then click [Save].
6. Select a criteria from the drop-down list, or leave the dropdown set to Overall Rubric Score, then click [Save].

NOTE: If you want to make the activity required, select [The activity is required to complete learning objective], then select a required level for the rubric from the Threshold drop-down list.
