

Use the Discover Tool to Self-Enroll

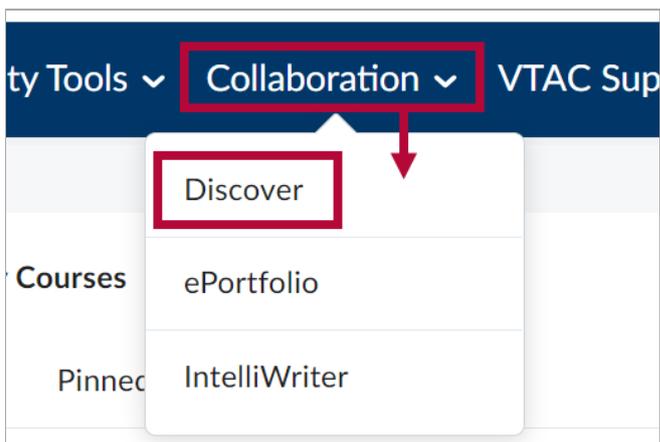

Last Modified on 03/18/2025 4:03 pm CDT

Discover is a tool which allows students and faculty to self-enroll in Community Groups in D2L. Once a Community Group is added to Discover, users can freely enroll and unenroll themselves in the Community Group, without needing to be added by a Group Manager (though a Group Manager is still able to enroll users themselves \(https://vtac.lonestar.edu/help/add-users-to-community-group\)). This can be useful for Community Groups in which a large number of students or faculty are expected to join, such as campus-wide initiatives. The instructions below illustrate how to enroll and unenroll yourself through Discover.

NOTE: If you wish to request a Community Group be added to Discover, please send an email to VTAC@lonestar.edu with the full name of the Community Group.

Use the Discover Tool to Enroll

1. From the Navbar on the D2L Homepage, select [Collaboration] followed by [Discover].

2. A list of community groups available for self-enrollment will appear. Click on the community group you would like to enroll in. You can also use the [Search] bar if needed.

NOTE: Community Groups meant for students usually include the word Student in their name.
